

About Me and the Studio

I've been a Drummer for over 50 years now and played in various Bands, mainly back in the 80's. I've also been a Photographer, Videographer and a bit of a "Techie" for most of that time too! So all in all, I'm lucky enough to have all the skills to help design and build a new concept in a Promotion / Recording Studio, along with Electronic Drum kit that goes with it! I've designed and developed this Drum Kit for use by drummers in my new studio here in Birkdale, Merseyside, UK

I felt in some respects that not much had changed for "Gigging Bands" ever since I was a Gigging Drummer back in the 80's! I appreciate Digital has come along way within the music Industry but from a Gigging Band's point of view, it's still done the way I did it over 40 years ago. However, there is no longer the vast amount of venues any more, with most having closed down and with what's left, it's become very difficult to "break in" to that circuit. I felt that I needed to change that somewhat, with the launch of my new studio, and in particular the drum kit that was required for it!

I also found that bands were doing gigs for free and with very small audiences and certainly not with their fan base from social media in attendance, so it seemed obvious to me, that this situation needed to improve and that's how I came up with the concept of a MultiMedia Studio for "Gigging Guitar Based Bands" to help promote them by "Live Streaming" their "Online Gig", here in the studio and then further, by using Social Media Channels for further Promotion, which should then help them get to the "next level" and get those bands noticed by any of the Major Labels - hopefully?!

I still believe in keeping music "Live" but I believe any gigging band trying to make it in 2024 and beyond, needs to supplement their 'Live Audience Gigs' with the addition of "Virtual Audience Gigs", in order to gain maximum traction and reach, to that connected Worldwide Audience, that is now available to them through use of online Social Media Channels, such as YouTube and Tik-Tok etc. This is what JamPadSpace Promotion Studios offers - "Live Stream Gigs" and "Virtual Time Zone Tours" and is a concept 7 years in the making so far!

So, I've now started this new business venture with the imminent launch of the studio this Summer / Autumn, for aspiring guitar based bands in Liverpool, England or for the rest of the UK too - to help them promote their original songs, through use of Live Streaming, Virtual Tours, Photos, Videos and use of Social Media.

JamPadSpace Studios has its own Photo & Video Studios and has its own unique “Online Interactive Gig Stage” that has over 20 video cameras covering all angles of the gigging band - to enable multi camera live streaming of their gigs.

JamPadSpace also supplies all the gear and instruments for DI / Midi recording of all the instruments to enable “pinpoint” audio to be recorded (all via the use of Headphones or IEM's) which means that JamPadSpace is a truly Silent Studio.

Remember that your first booking includes a free session (for all musicians) for up to 3 hours, to try out the kit and get your sound saved for future sessions!
